

Restorative Justice Conference October 27-28, 2005

(9/6/2005)

The Nebraska Correctional Association (NCA) and the Omaha Coalition on Restorative Justice are co-sponsoring a thought-provoking and timely conference on Restorative Justice October 27-28, 2005 at the Doubletree Hotel in Omaha, Nebraska.

The Nebraska Correctional Association (NCA) and the Omaha Coalition on Restorative Justice are co-sponsoring a thought-provoking and timely conference on Restorative Justice October 27-28, 2005 at the Doubletree Hotel in Omaha, Nebraska. Debbie Morris, author of Dead Man Walking, and Kay Pranis, nationally renowned leader in Restorative Justice, consultant for the National Institute of Corrections and the National Institute of Justice, and co-author of Peacemaking Circles: From Crime to Community are the featured speakers. “Restorative Justice in the Workplace”, “Young Adult Courts” and “Mental Health Court/Diversion” are only a few of the dynamic breakout sessions which highlight Nebraska programs that currently apply Restorative Justice principles to their operations.

This conference brings together perspectives, insights and opportunities to connect with justice professionals, community members, service providers, victims, victims advocates, faith leaders, students, and all who are impacted by crime to determine together the best response to crime.

Cost of the Conference:

Early Bird After Oct. 7

Both Days $75 On-site $89

One Day $40 On-site $55

Student 2-Day $50 On-site $55

Student 1-Day $25 On-site $40

Please register by Oct. 7 to receive an “Early Bird” discount. Registration includes continental breakfast and lunch each day. Hotel discounts apply for overnight accommodations. Please watch the mail for early registration dates or call NCA Board members Cathy Waller-Borovac at 402-997-7440 or Connie Pfeifer at 402-546-1145 for additional information.