Contractor Injured in Workplace Accident at Lincoln Correctional Center

LINCOLN – Today, at approximately 9 a.m., a contractor working on a roofing project at Lincoln Correctional Center (LCC) in Lincoln, Neb., was injured in a fall.

LCC medical staff rendered first-aid until emergency personnel arrived and transported him to a local medical facility.

This is all the information available regarding the status of the contractor at this time.

The contractor is employed by White Castle Roofing based in Lincoln.

“From the entirety of the Nebraska Department of Correctional Services family, our thoughts and prayers are with the injured individual and his family,” Scott Frakes, NDCS Director said.
